If you spend anytime on the internet looking for undershirts or underwear (guessing you are because you are here), or a frequent Tug reader, you probably already know about the Men's and Women's Underwear mega site FreshPair.com.

Well, over the last several weeks I've been in contact with the super great folks there and they've agreed to sponsor some of my upcoming Undershirt Reviews by offering up some undershirts I've been dyeing to try out.

The first in the line up that I'll be reviewing soon is the Modal Silver Crew Neck T-Shirt by Report Collection. The thing that interests me about this undershirt is that it has the same silky smooth modal/spandex fabric blend as another undershirt I really like. So, I'm anxious to see how it compares!

Wanted to give a shout out to my FP marketing contact to say a big thank you for being so great to work with! She's a complete sweetheart and has been incredibly responsive.

Thank you FreshPair.com!
